

Website Privacy Policy

This privacy notice discloses the privacy practices for connectedcognition.com, which is owned and operated by Connected Cognition LLC. This privacy notice applies solely to information collected by this website and not to outside sites linked to by the website.

It will notify you of the following:

1. What personally identifiable information is collected from you through the website, how it is used and with whom it may be shared.
2. What choices are available to you regarding the use of your data.
3. The security procedures in place to protect the misuse of your information.

Information Collection, Use, and Sharing

We are the sole owner of the information collected on this site. We only have access to/collect information that you voluntarily give us via email or other direct contact from you. Visitors will be informed when the website requires personal information (name, address, e-mail address, telephone number, credit card number and/or other identifying information).

We will use your information to respond to you regarding the reason you contacted us. We will not sell or rent this information to anyone. We will not share your information with any third party outside of our organization, other than as necessary to fulfill your request. We may disclose your personal information if required to do so by law or in the good-faith belief that such action is necessary to comply with any legal requirements.

Your Access to and Control Over Information

You may opt out of any future contacts from us at any time. You can also do the following at any time by contacting us via the web contact form or phone number given on our website:

- See what data we have about you collected from this website, if any.
- Addend/correct any data we have about you collected from this website, if any.
- Express any concern you have about our use of your data collected from this website, if any.

Security

We take precautions to protect your information. When you submit sensitive information via the website, your information is protected both online and offline.

We make an effort to protect any personal information submitted to us electronically. For example, information that may be sensitive (e.g., your name, contact information, and message sent via our Contact Us web form), is encrypted. We also use Secure Socket Layers (SSL) on our site. However, no electronic communication can be guaranteed as completely secure. Any sensitive information submitted to the website is provided at the risk of the sender. If you are concerned that the content of your communication is especially sensitive, you are encouraged to contact us via phone.

While we use encryption to protect sensitive information transmitted online, we also protect your information offline. Only employees who need the information to perform a specific job (for example, billing or clinical service) are granted access to personally identifiable information.

Cookies

We use "cookies" on this site. A cookie is a piece of data stored on a site visitor's hard drive to help us improve your access to our site and identify repeat visitors to our site. For instance, when we use a cookie to identify you, you would not have to log in a password more than once, thereby saving time while on our site. Cookies are also used in user analytics. Usage of a cookie is in no way linked to any personally identifiable information on our site.
